▶ ORGANIC ENERGY

Steaz introduces first USDA Organic and Fair-Trade Certified Energy Drink

The Healthy Beverage Co. has introduced what they claim to be the world's first USDA Organic and Fair-Trade Certified energy drink, Steaz Energy. Labeled as "Organic Fuel for the Mind, Body and Soul", Steaz Energy contains fair trade certified green tea, organic Guayaki yerba mate, the antioxidant-rich acai fruit, a touch of guarana and organic cane juice. This organic energy drink aims to give consumers a natural energy boost, without the highly refined sugars, artificial sweeteners, artificial colors, flavors or preservatives that are found in most energy drinks.

Steaz Energy has a carbonated, light berry flavor and comes in the company's new tall 12oz "SLEEK" can for a SRP of $1.99. Steaz is sold nationwide across the US and internationally in Canada, Australia, Mexico, India, Singapore and the Middle East. It is available through United Natural Foods Inc., Rainbow Natural Foods Inc., Tree of Life Inc. and through several other independent distributors listed on the company's website.

More information is available on the Steaz website or by contacting the company at 800-295-1388 or info@steaz.com.

▶ BELLA'S COOKIES

New cookie flavor joins organic cookie lineup

Delaware-based cookie makers, Bella's Cookies, have recently released a new cookie to their signature cookie collection, a lineup of all-natural and organic cookie varieties. Named the "Woo-Woo", the new white chocolate cherry cookie is organic and displays a logo on its tag from the Delaware Department of Agriculture. The logo, an extension of the Department of Agriculture's "Grown Fresh with Care" program, was created as part of a new marketing campaign, designed to promote and increase the consumption of Delaware agricultural products. The "Woo-Woo" cookies are sold as a "double pack", a recyclable crystal bag that contains 2 x 3 oz cookies and is tied with a red & white cookie tag. Each "double pack" retails for $4 and is available for purchase through the company's website or by calling 302-684-8152. Inquiries can be directed to Mark Leishear at mleishear@bellascookies.com. Watch for Bella's new vegan cookie and an organic Whoopie Pie next!
